

My name is Kashia Harriman. I really don't like getting up in the morning for school. My favorite colors are green, silver, and black. I have one older brother named Travis and two dogs named Rikku and Aena. My favorite sports are track and snowboard- ing. I have no preference toward cold or warm weather. This is really starting to bore me now so I'm going to stop typing this soon. You know Stacy is sitting next to me typing really weird random stuff and saying "weeee"

For some reason she just typed green and a bunch of dots... Then came boo and so on like that. Now she said that she thought I was going to stop typing though I clearly said soon. Not immediately! Just soon. She deleted it, how sad. Anyways it's really funny.
